“ I only casually knew Ed at the Fitness Plaza but really thought he was a great guy. We always chatted about restaurants we had eaten at and gave each other recommendations. He will be greatly missed.

“ I knew Ed as a young man in high school. He was a friend of my eldest son and became a family friend. He was often at our home even after my son went into the Air Force. He would come to visit with Kait and I and usually brought his girlfriend over. They were good young kids, not a malicious or harmful intent in him. He often enough had mischief in him as most all young men do. But I never detected a harmful or malicious bone in him. He was delightful to be around and I could always count on him to help me "discipline" anyone getting out of hand at their parties in our home. Had he been my son, I would have been proud of him as my son. This is very sorrowful news. He was more than decent, he was good.

“ Ed was one of my best friends in high school. He would come over to my house in that red impala, and me, him, and Chris Henry would go try and find some fun somewhere. Usually, we'd end up sitting around and talking about something as young guys do. We were on the football team together. He was a good friend, always willing to help if needed.
