“ Dear Mark and Iris,
I'm so sorry for your loss of both Mr. and Mrs. Bray and Robin. I was thinking about you all the other day and put your parents' name in Google and saw that your Mom just passed recently. I remember you when you were a little tyke and we lived next door to you. I was more your brother's age and played sometimes with all of you. I remember whiffle ball games and having a ride in your Dad's antique car. I also remember seeing a demolition derby at the Allentown Fair because your Dad was an undercover detective at the time and he had passes to go into the Fair and walk around undercover. Your Mom took me to Hess's one time and bought a school outfit for me. I don't know if you remember us at all - Donna Grumbine Whary now. Your parents were wonderful people and I remember all of you with great fondness. I'm so glad for the memories of that time of growing up on Congress St. My best to you and your wife.
Donna
