

Gloria A. Sagula

July 15, 2025

Gloria A. Sagula, 92, of Allentown, formerly of Northbrook, IL, died peacefully at home Tuesday, July 15, 2025. She was the wife of the late Frank J. Sagula, with whom she shared 69 years of marriage. As the youngest of three sisters, she inherited a respect for others, as well as a great sense of humor, and an infectious laugh that always brought smiles to those around her. Family dinners around the dinner table throughout her life were always special with every generation. The Arts were an important part of her life: music, live theatre, art museums, and cinema. She lovingly introduced these to her children to enrich their lives as well. Her children inherited her athleticism, notably ice skating, golf, tennis, swimming, and dancing. Gloria was a member of St Joseph the Worker Church, where she sang with the funeral mass choir. She was a devout Roman Catholic who shared this gift with her children and grandchildren.

Gloria is survived by daughters, Karen Miller and her husband David of St. Charles, IL., Diane Sagula of Wayne, PA; sons Brian Sagula and his wife Lee of Coatsville, PA, Dr. David Sagula and his wife Lita of Des Moines, IA.; grandsons Steven David Miller and his wife Kirsten, Erik Frank Miller, Jack Edwin Sagula, Evelyn Grace Sagula; great granddaughters Clare Leah Miller, Abigail Gloria Miller, as well as one on the way.
